Appalachia Christian Academy programs, including Fellowship, Athletics, and travel. I/We release and hold harmless the Academy, its staff, directors, officers, and volunteers from any liability, including but not limited to injury, accident, illness, or death, whether occurring on-site, off-site, or in transit.

I/We assume full responsibility for supervision, transportation, and medical care of our child. This release applies to parents/guardians and students, including accidents, incidents, or injuries occurring to parents/guardians while attending Academy events.

This agreement is binding for the undersigned, our heirs, executors, and assigns, and applies to all Academy programs now and in the future unless revoked in writing by Appalachia Christian Academy.

Parental Responsibility and Assumption of Risk

Appalachia Christian Academy operates as an umbrella homeschool organization, providing administrative oversight, compliance documentation, optional enrichment opportunities, and access to Fellowship and Sports/Outreach programs. Parents are acknowledged as the primary educators and supervisors of their children, responsible for all instruction, grading, curriculum selection, and daily educational decisions. Participation in any academy program, activity, field trip, or athletic event is entirely voluntary. By enrolling in Appalachia Christian Academy, parents acknowledge and accept full responsibility for the safety, supervision, and well-being of their children at all times, including while participating in optional Fellowship gatherings, Sports/Outreach activities, workshops, community service projects, or any academy-related events.

The academy, its employees, volunteers, instructors, leadership, and/or board members are not responsible for in any event or circumstance whatsoever, nor liable for, any injuries, illnesses, accidents, or incidents that may occur during participation in educational, athletic, or extracurricular activities. This includes, but is not limited to, slips, falls, transportation-related incidents, exposure to weather, property damage, or personal health emergencies. Parents retain full authority and accountability for the care, safety, and oversight of their children during all academy-sanctioned events or home instruction. The academy does not provide supervision, medical care, or emergency response for students during any activity outside administrative or compliance functions.

Limitation of Liability

In no event shall Appalachia Christian Academy, its staff, administrators, volunteers, board members, or affiliated organizations be held liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, punitive, or exemplary damages arising from participation in the homeschool program, optional academy events, or any related activities. This includes, without limitation, claims for personal injury, property damage, illness, loss of life, or any other harm, whether foreseeable or unforeseen. Parents hereby release, waive, and hold harmless Appalachia Christian Academy, its employees, volunteers, officers, and directors from any and all claims, liabilities, or causes of action arising from or relating to their child’s participation in academy programs, home instruction, or affiliated activities.

Extreme Liability Waiver

Parents expressly acknowledge and agree that the academy assumes no responsibility whatsoever for any risks, including but not limited to: accidents, injuries, illnesses, pandemics, allergic reactions, emotional distress, acts of God, natural disasters, property damage, transportation accidents, or death that may occur during participation in any academy program or while on academy property, Fellowship or Sports/Outreach locations, or during travel to or from any academy-related event. Parents accept that all decisions regarding health, safety, medical treatment, supervision, and emergency response are solely their responsibility, and the academy is released from any obligation to intervene, supervise, or respond to emergencies.

Parents further acknowledge that the academy does not provide instruction, grading, tutoring, or oversight of daily academic work beyond portfolio review and compliance documentation. Any reliance on academy guidance for curriculum, extracurricular activity planning, or participation in events is done entirely at the parent's discretion. The academy is not responsible for any consequences arising from parental or student decisions, including academic outcomes, social interactions, or extracurricular engagement.

Acknowledgment and Consent

By enrolling in Appalachia Christian Academy, parents and students explicitly agree to this waiver and accept all associated risks. Parents affirm that they have read, understood, and voluntarily consent to the terms of this agreement, recognizing that participation in any program, activity, or event is at their own risk. This agreement is intended to provide the maximum legal protection for Appalachia Christian Academy, its staff, agents, representatives, volunteers, and board members under Kentucky law. It applies to all present and future claims, including those arising from negligence, gross negligence, or any other form of liability, and supersedes any verbal assurances or representations regarding safety, supervision, or responsibility.

Parents further agree that this waiver is binding and enforceable against themselves, their heirs, representatives, and assigns, and that no legal action may be taken against Appalachia Christian Academy, its affiliates, staff, or directors for any matter related to the homeschool program, optional programs, or participation in academy events. Enrollment and continued participation constitutes unconditional acceptance of these terms and a full release of liability for all activities, programs, and academy operations.

Release of Liability:

Parents and guardians expressly waive, release, and hold harmless Appalachia Christian Academy, its employees, volunteers, board members, and agents from any and all claims, damages, liabilities, or causes of action arising from or related to: their child's participation in any academy program, activity, or event; travel to or from academy events, Fellowship gatherings, Sports/Outreach sessions, or any related activity; and/or any personal injury, property damage, illness, or death sustained by their child or themselves while attending or traveling to/from academy activities.

Binding Agreement and Required Signatures:

Enrollment in Appalachia Christian Academy, participation in any program, and submission of student work constitutes acceptance of these terms. Both parents/guardians must sign the handbook acknowledgment page to confirm that they have read, understood, and agreed to this liability and responsibility policy.
